Hundreds of crooks and mobsters have beaten up police officers, doctors and nurses over the years. In an effort to new police officer has been hired to protect the doctors and nurses.

ISLAMIC STATE CONFRONTS AL-QAIDA

The Supreme Court decision on the President’s immigration authority, which the government
views as a major victory, will be decided by the Court’s nine justices.

The justices will
consider whether
the Trump administration
is
acting
correctly
when it
declares
immigrants
who
have
entered
the
United States
illegally
are
ineligible
for
work
permits.

The
has
argued
that
decision
is
necessary
to
enforce
immigration
law,
while
lawmakers
have
tested
their
powers
by
challenging
administration’s
actions.

The
court
will
determine
whether
of
immigration
is
correct.
